The Ludlow Murder--Meeting of

The citizens of Ludiow, Ky , met last night to defend themselves by drawing up pungent resolutions against the attack made upon them by the indignation of Ludlow, men, women and children, have been nightly endanged by threatened invasion by excited persons who have been gulled and played upon by false statements for political purposes;

"Resolved, That we recognize in the speeches and writings of William M. Corry, and other acts calculated, and probably intended, to incite invasion and wholesale butchery, and we de-nounce such acts as more villatnous and cowardly than the act of the man who killed Ochsuer.

Resolved, That we denounce as maliciously false the statements of William M. Corry (from beginning to end), with reference to the Ochsuer affair; with reference to the Ochsher affair; also, that his statement that the citizens of Ludlow, to draw attention, get up horse races and dog fights; also, his statement that the life of a man is in danger who sells beer or differs with the citizens in opinion. [No horse race has taken place in or near Ludlow for over afteen years and it would be an enloytaken piace in or hear Ludiow for overfifteen years, and it would be an enjoyable novelty, and the only dog fight everheard of here took place a short time ago a short distance from the town.
It was carried on only by Cincinnatiroughs, who escaped when they expected the descent upon them of the Ludiow

Marshals, one man braking his leg in getting away. It is presumed Corry must have been in the party, and hence his rage at Ludlow Marshals.]

"Resolved, That we look upon the killing of Ochsuer as a deplorable affair, which, in the total absence of information as to the condition of affairs at the time of the fatal shot, can not be fairly the display of harmless pyrotechnics, but that the firing of pistols and the display of cannon fire-crackers will be was at a time when a peaceable surrent was at a time when a peaceable was at a time when a peaceable surrent was at a time when a peaceable was at a time when a peaceable surrent was at a time when a peaceable was was at a time when a peaceable surrou-der of arms was sought for at a different part of the premises, and with chances for success, and that we ask a suspen-sion of public opinion until the races as to the killing are known.

"Resolved, That we recognize in the conduct of James Nixon, Edward Plumat Wood's Theater. Mr. E. C. Middleton conducted the services. Speeches of interest were made by R. H. Hall, of Philadelphia; Brother Haines, Brother Marshail, Brother Bowland and Brother Wenzell.

Hon. Will Cumback, of Indiana, and Capt. Sturdevant, of Maine, the gentleman who was instrumental in the salvation of Francis Murphy, will address the meeting in the theater to-night. Tickets can be procured in the drug stores, book stores, and at the theater ticket office.
